Summer Term

Friday 9th June 2017

Dear Parents,

It has been a very busy first week back after half term.

As you will be aware, we were informed of an Ofsted inspection on Monday, and welcomed an HMI (and a shadowing Ofsted Inspector) in to school on Tuesday. There was a very full schedule of meetings and monitoring throughout the day.

As always, I was extremely proud of the children and the way they conducted themselves. Well done, you made us feel proud!

I would like to say a huge thank you to all the staff who work so hard all the time, and make the school what it is, and to the Governors who support the school so positively. Both contributed to the inspection on the day.

I would also like to thank all those parents who took the time to give their views on the Ofsted on-line Parent View site or who spoke to the Inspectors on the playground in the morning. I very much appreciate your contribution. The responses on Parent View certainly made us all feel very proud of our learning community, and can be viewed, as always, through our school website link.

We now await notification of the outcome. When this is validated and published, I will ensure you receive a copy. This should be in a few weeks time.
